

May 1, 2012

Dear Child Nutrition Director:

As another school year passes and you prepare for next year, please keep Fidelity Safety & Training in mind for all of your food and general safety training needs. We have been providing training solutions for California public schools since 1999 and specialize in Certified Food Safety Manager Courses, also known as Food Protection Manager or ServSafe®.

Our courses are educational, entertaining and divided into lecture, discussion, fill-in-the-blank handouts, and a visual presentation. We are able to keep our prices at a bare minimum, because most of our referrals come from past customers and county health departments. We understand training costs are a serious concern, so we have a few suggestions on how to save money or even receive the training for free.

- Host a class and we can invite other districts from the area. You will receive a host discount and the more in attendance, the less the group pays.
- Inquire with your district's property and liability insurance group. In many cases they will pay for the training as a loss control service. Contact your business office or risk manager to obtain more information about the services provided by your insurance group.
- If you are in or near San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara, Tulare, Kings, Kern, Inyo or Mono Counties, we have regularly scheduled courses and if you send three people you will receive one free. Go to www.fidelitysafety.com for more information.

We have received many calls about food handler cards. On January 1, 2012, enforcement of the new California Food Handler Card Law went into effect. All dishwashers, servers, cooks, bartenders, and others that handle or prepare food or beverages must obtain a CA Food Handler Card. Be advised that schools are exempt from this new law!

In addition to Certified Food Safety Manager Courses, we offer:

- HACCP Development and Training
- General Food Safety Training (two or more hour course for all food service employees)
- Hazard Communications and MSDS
- Fire Prevention and Fire Extinguishers
- Ergonomics, Back and Lifting Safety
- And many others!

Whether you have one food service employee or hundreds, we are able to customize a program that will work for you. Our August and June schedule fills up quickly, so please call or email today with your questions, to obtain a quote, or to schedule a program. You may call us at (866) 221-4045 x5 or by e-mail at safety@fidelitysafety.com.

Fidelity Safety & Training is a proud member of:

